

Example. Corrections shown in blue.

Detroit, MI is a city located in the Great Lakes region of the United States, and The city of Detroit, Michigan is located in the Great Lakes region of the United States, borders Canada. As of 2019, the estimated population was close to 700,000 with a metro population above 4 million residents. The city is famous for being the birthplace of the assembly line and the focal point of car manufacturing. Three major automakers (Ford, General Motors, and Fiat-Chrysler) call the Detroit area home. The Motor City's economy is also supplemented by the finance, medical, and oil/gas industries.
(Passive Voice) The finance, medical, and oil/gas industries supplement Detroit's automotive-based economy.

Detroit's skyline is composed of some of the finest examples of art deco architecture; a 1920's and 30's style associated with many famous (used famous already. Try using "prominent" or "distinguished") buildings such as the Empire State Building in New York. However, the tallest skyscraper in Detroit is (not art deco, but rather a modern design. The Renaissance Center, at 221 meters tall, and serves as the Rising to 221 meters, the Renaissance Center... headquarters to General Motors.

Detroit is also well-known for its demographic and racial history. The city Too repetitive using "Detroit"... replace it with "The midwestern metropolis..."

currently is 87% percent African American. The 1968 race riots were a turning point in the city's socioeconomic history when many White/Caucasian people left the city for the Rephrase to "The 1968 race riots was a socioeconomic turning point when many..." suburbs. Prior to this point, government policy had been discriminatory in nature, keeping African Americans contained in specific neighborhoods.

As of the 2000s, Detroit had reached a tough economic situation. And with the recession of 2008, \(the city was eventually forced to declare bankruptcy.\) The city that City officials declared bankruptcy.

once \(had a population of\) housed 2 million people in the 1950s \(and was the third-largest city in America by this number\) \(third-largest in US\), was now experiencing high vacancy rates as people left. \(for where?\)

Now the city is \(getting back on its feet\) revitalizing with billions of dollars in investment to restore infrastructure, bring back jobs try using "increase employment", and promote education. With the help of academic institutions including University of Michigan and local Wayne State University, a 'research corridor' has been established to explore new technologies in the automotive industry, especially with autonomous vehicle technology.

"Explore autonomous vehicles and other related technologies."